Clear Your Past
and Change Your Future

Spiritual Healing & more for Personal and Business

Message from God

Question for Heaven?

Mark your calendars for our next free tele-seminar for Tuesday, August 19 at 6:30 PM.

In the interim, the suggestion was for this coming month to ask you what subject you would like. You can ask a question or questions and I will present to my heavenly colleagues for their input and include in the upcoming call.

We may even develop a Q&A column. So email your general questions to info@expresssuccess.net and we'll see what we can answer for you.

For Personal Questions or Clearing...

And if you have personal questions or challenges rather than general questions, also email me at info@expresssuccess.net so I can give you the personal attention you require. We work on personal, financial, business and real estate issues and happy to set some personal time to chat. Working with one person we can address personal, family and business challenges.

God Discusses His Connection With You

Since God would like to speak with you and many of you have trouble hearing him directly, he has asked me to deliver this message to you:

My Children:

Many of you are lost. Many of you struggle. You don't know where to find me, let alone who I really am to you. I am your Creator, yes. But that is not all. I am part of you. I live within your very essence. I am beneath your every breath. I am at your essence. It is I at your core, your very being, your very essence. No man, woman or child would be alive if it weren't for me and that essence that lies within each and every one of you. But what am I and who am I to you?

Please, allow me to explain. All things are made of an energy. There is one energy malleable to be created into anything you or I want. Our minds create that which ultimately exists. I am the mind at the center of it all. I am the intelligence that lies within the essence of creation. I am that I am.

By tapping into me, you access all there is. I am the source of it all. I am the source of you. Without me you would not be. Without you, I continue to be as I am.

The difference between you and I is nothing much more than perception. If you cut off a finger, would you not still have a hand? I am that hand that feeds you. I created you out of the essence of who I am. You are as I am. But, only if you are aware of the I am presence within you. You see, it is all about thought. It is about what you think of yourself and of me. Your thoughts do not shape me. My thoughts shaped you. However, I gave you free will and the ability to discover who you are on your own with the help of all those who have gone before you.

They exist as you do - based on thoughts of those before. Some of you were created out of some of them. They had a thought of you before you came into being. You came into being and then were taught by them the thoughts they had about themselves, life and others. You lived out of their truths as they saw the world from their eyes. Now I would like to share with you the world through my eyes.

You, each and every one of you, have more power than you give yourself credit for having. You possess within your very being and essence the power of creation. You, therefore, can create your world as YOU see fit. And, you do that, I might add. Because that power and essence of creation lies within you and you use your thoughts to create what you experience, your lives and your world is demonstrating the thoughts that you have.

You have a choice in each and every moment what powerful thought you wish to think and have demonstrated out in the world. Since most of you rely on your past teachings and experiences, you create your life and your world out of that past. You have a choice, however. You can also tap into me, your source and your essence, the operating system so to speak, at your core, and ask me what would be the highest and best outcome for you at this time.

You see, having access to the "all knowing" at your essence and core, you can have access to the big picture.

Rather than know just what happened in the past of just one finger, why not know what happened to all fingers and what is possible by asking the hand that feeds you? If I exist at the center of all, shouldn't I have a clue as to what the big picture looks like? If you had a map and wanted to go to the next town, would you just look at the town you now live in? I think not. You want to look beyond what you already know. By tapping into me, you tap into more than you now know. You access all there is. That is where the magic lies. And, the magic lies within you, your very essence.

Seek there first and all else will be added.
