Blocks to Money and Full Self Expression

This case study may help you understand why you may not be freely expressing your gifts or how your finances may be negatively impacted.

I am going to share this information in a way that you understand divine timing and the way the universe sometimes orchestrates events to support a big win for both individuals as well as for the masses.

Yesterday began with my regular clients rather typically and then it took on a life of it's own. I'm going to explain the course of events of the day in a way so you can understand the dynamics of clearing the cause of issues affecting individuals as well as humanity. This is an example of how heaven is helping set you free and improve your life.

A weekly client (Client A) on Tuesday wanted to continue working on a subject begun this week. She felt compelled to continue to do more work on it this week rather than wait until her next session. I was working on her husband through her and she felt it necessary to work on someone who was on the board of a company with her husband. Apparently, the business seemed to experience more challenges after he joined the board. Her intuition caused her to believe she needed to mention that man to me.

This additional appointment was for the morning, which we were both surprised about because she never books in the morning but she felt it important to book it for 11:15.

When I opened the session, I began to look at the board member and saw he had a connection to the property of the business. The business had been a former courthouse. He apparently was hanged in the past and we needed to clear his past life when that occurred and clear all connections to the other board members as well as with the courthouse. Sometimes people join companies because of their past-life connections.

Then I was told I needed to clear with the Salem witch trials. From there, it took a life of it's own. I had to clear with all involved including, land, cause and effect, oppression, persecution, fear, blame, emotions, anger, denial, hiding, the trials, victimization, terror, limited beliefs, puritanical mindset, being burned at the stake, etc. I have often cleared the past-lives of being burned at the stake as well as hangings for my clients. Fortunately, I just identify it and effortlessly clear the cause and effect and all involved, without the client seeing or feeling anything themselves.

I was also shown the grid connecting the stories and the darkness that ran through it. This grid covered New England. I cleared the grid itself until it went from black to white. I saw stuck energies released as well as bodies released up to heaven.

Another client (Client B) called in the middle of that session that clued me in to their having a connection to the client and/or story. Her soul or angels would be able to guide her to make the call during that time. I cleared between the two of them as well as their family, relatives and ancestors.

Client A's appointment ran into Client C's appointment at noon. That clued me into not only clearing between them but also that the subject was significant to him. I also realized that the story itself affected finances for him as well as many. When I asked Archangel Michael, he said that the finances of 1/8 of the population are negatively impacted by that history today. The financial markets are also affected by this karma.

While working with Client C, I got the phrase "seeds of shame" to clear. This related more to the causal level of problems and I was told of the global connection to that. The purpose of clearing the subject was to clear for all who have been persecuted for being gifted. I was told that the world has been oppressed for being gifted and has fear sharing, expressing their gifts, standing out and being different because of this. I could certainly relate to this as fear of persecution is something I had to clear often for myself. Archangel Michael has often said clearing persecution is my speciality and it is something I clear often for my clients.

I was then guided to reach out to Client B to clear more thoroughly on the subject for her and her family as they were limited both financially and from freely expressing their gifts due to this era and situation.

When people release the causal level of problems, they can experience more effortless change and better results. Lightworkers, in particular, are held back expressing their gifts because of fear of persecution. Once they release their own negative memories of persecution, they are more free to express their gifts and do the work they are here to do this lifetime and to be able to make more money.

Upon completion of all the work yesterday on the subject, Archangel Michael shared "The soul of humanity was cleared today of the cause of persecution." I personally hope it doesn't take too long to see the physical benefits of that. Once I complete my clearing, it is all in God's hands to fully heal the causal level. Once fully healed, it will begin to shift the thinking, feeling and experiences of those affected. Those that release those negative memories, connections, karma, and emotions from within, can experience those results even quicker. Client B and C should be able to benefit sooner because they are clearing the cause and effect of this situation from within them.

My intention was to send this out this morning. However, before sending it I was also guided to clear with sacrifice. That subject alone is tremendous and affects all in more ways than just the obvious. Although I had to clear sacrifice before sending this today, I will elaborate on that subject in another newsletter. It is all about divine timing and order. I am being told Clients A, B and C need to clear sacrifice next time.

I hope this sheds light on some of how heaven is helping you and how shifts happen.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend and a whole new world of possibility,

Joy
