In Light of Halloween

In light of halloween, I thought I would address some of its aspects that I get into with my practice. It's not that people hire because of halloween and its subject matter, but the subject matter relating to halloween often comes up within the context of my work with regular clients. That is what I would like to elaborate.

Disguises

Costumes are great for halloween but do you want to wear them year round? How authentic are you? Are you being true to who you are or living out the fantasy or beliefs of another? We work on releasing the blocks to knowing who you are, living your authentic self and clearing the limiting beliefs and programming imposed by others.

Haunted Houses

Do you have ghosts?

The most obvious is probably haunted houses. I clear the energy of both homes and businesses on a regular basis. There's one place of business that has become a regular building to clear due to its history - its haunted history. As you want to clean your property of dirt, you also want to clear its energy as well. A regular clearing of the energy of a building and property is useful because energies accumulate from negative expressed or unexpressed emotions and thoughts.

There doesn't need to be a dramatic event for a clearing to be beneficial of a home or business. Picture Charlie Brown's Pigpen. The person doesn't have to be physically filthy but people bring in energy of all sorts into an environment and leave it behind even if you can't see it. Clear it regularly and you don't have negative emotions and thoughts permeating affecting all regardless as to whether they recognize the thoughts and feelings are their own or others.

I did a clearing on a job interview once and saw that the company still had civil war energy within it which caused employees to not necessarily see eye to eye although they would have basically liked one another.

Spells

Have you ever had a spell put on you?

Spells are not as uncommon as you might think. I clear spells, curses and black magic. Of the three, curses are the most common. Humanity had a several curses put upon it as a whole by Satan, for example.

1. That humanity would not know God.
2. That if someone turned to God, they would be sabotaged.
3. That if someone worked for or served God, they would be sabotaged.

Fortunately, we cleared those curses but that doesn't mean the individuals affected aren't still impacted. We clear cause and effect in general but affects can be held in place by reasons pertaining to the individual as well.

Superstition

People carry superstitions, old programming and fears that we also clear. When you have anything less than a free and clear mind, you attract less than desirable results somewhere in your life. By releasing fears, limiting beliefs, etc., you set yourself free and raise your vibration.

Candy

Some of my clients work on their attachments to food, sweets and certain types of eating habits. We clear the history of their food habits, which may come from lifetimes of starvation, a belief in being heavy because you were considered more prosperous those lifetimes, or the emotional components of eating habits.

Darkness

The types of darkness demonstrated in halloween are some of the things we clear in general. We don't elaborate during a session and our sessions are not scary at all, but clearing memories of negative and dark occurrences from the person's past, helps set them free. Those negative memories, whether conscious of them or not, can wreak havoc in the background without realizing it. Ultimately, those limiting beliefs and fears can continue to hold a person back until fully released.

Pagan Rituals

We clear rituals, vows, old religious programming that no longer serves the individual. By releasing the person from the past, they can more easily create effortless success in the future. It is amazing what memories can be limiting the person's ultimate success. Fortunately, in many instances, when dealing with some subjects we can just clear the entire subject within moments with a general clearing without getting into story. Although the stories are sometimes fascinating, we don't always need to elaborate on them to clear them effectively. We clear the subconscious to set you free of the limiting outcomes from those negative memories.

Happy Halloween!
