Wisdom of the Guardian

News to Improve

I've been feeling a little guilty lately because I mostly serve business owners but share news from heaven more than what assists people in business specifically. Heaven has wanted to help everyone transition into an easier life as well as business. Their assistance is enormous and there is so much going on behind the scenes it's hard to realize with all the negative news. So, I wanted to elaborate on the news for a moment, which I have done below.

I also want to start speaking more about some of the issues we work on with business owners and professionals.

And, as we are in the holiday season, I also wanted to address that also, which I discuss below as well.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend.

Faithfully yours,
Joy

Negative News

Be mindful of the negative news. First of all, much of the media is powered by darkness. The dark forces want you to live in fear because it opens the door for more darkness. By not engaging in their tactics, you free yourself to experience more light. More light actually assists in eliminating the darkness that is trying to undermine you.

God forewarned that there would be evidence of more darkness before there would be more evidence of the light. That is what we are experiencing right now. It is forcing people to choose sides. With every piece of news you hear, you get the opportunity to choose which side you prefer to reside - the one of dark or the one of light.

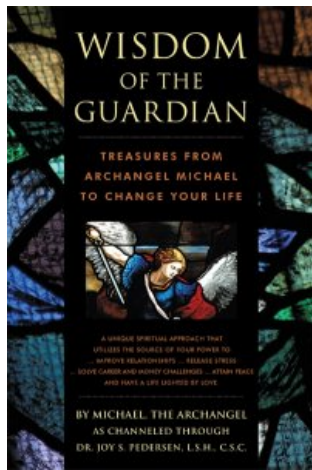

As thoughts travel the globe within seconds, your thoughts of love enhance the light on the planet. Your dark thoughts empower the darkness. When they share negative news, their tactic is to engage negativity. Which camp would you like to support?

There is plenty of good news shared mostly on the internet. And, if that news is followed more, the response in energy upon engaging with that news enhances the light.

The light wins after this final battle with darkness. However, you have an opportunity to move up the timeline by the thoughts you engage in. You get to choose how soon you experience peace on earth by how quickly you choose peace over anything less optimal for your own life.

Love your life, share your love and light, read about loving and positive news and that will be YOUR reality. As soon as everyone else also chooses that as well, it will become their reality as well.

Let's get to know each other, the challenges you face and the solutions I provide. If there's a fit, we can decide together what options are best for you.

I wish everyone a wonderful holiday season. It isn't always easy for those who are experiencing any kind of challenge. Remember that those challenges are sometimes based on triggered memories. It is our subconscious that projects and attracts our results. If you are experiencing something less than desired during the holidays, start with your perspective. Your negative memories may be triggered and attracting less than desirable outcomes. Releasing those memories and living in the present helps.

Are you attached to an idea of what it should be rather than accepting what is? It isn't always circumstances that are the challenge but the viewpoint we hold of them.

I sometimes offer a group holiday clearing because the holidays bring up many unresolved issues and those memories that are triggered at this time of year can be overwhelming. It is also particularly challenging for some now as the increase in light flooding the planet is bringing up old issues more readily to help you release them.

Because holidays incorporate family, the family issues surface more readily. Expectations aren't met. Old hurts surface. What hasn't been forgiven creates a barrier to ease and effortlessness.

Because I usually work with business owners on a retainer basis covering all areas of life and business, I have moved away from single sessions except for specific challenges such as when someone wants to clear property, travel or upcoming event. But, due to the holidays, I will do single sessions if someone wants extra support, healing or clearing the remainder of the year.

Business Case Study

One of my regular clients had an out-of-town event planned. We cleared with the travel [to and from event including every person, place and thing in between] and the event itself. This included the intentions to the outcomes. There are many nuances and variable to events. We try to be thorough and clear with them all.

As you clear the future, you are also really clearing the past and elevating the outcome for all. With every clearing, you raise the vibrations and possibilities. Client reported that overall everything went relatively smoothly and that he was happy with the results. The sooner an event can begin being cleared with, the better it can go.
