Message from Jesus to His Followers

Over the years, Jesus has been one of my biggest supporters when I am criticized by the public for messages and information I am usually sharing from Archangel Michael.

The reaction to the news I was asked to share that I was Michael incarnate got Michael highly upset because of the hate it created. He was personally offended. As he commented, "The same people I help on a moment's notice when asked, are hateful." What he felt was good news that he was present on the planet to assist, received an unexpected and disappointing energetic backlash because I didn't meet their pictures. When that happened, Jesus was right there to comfort me. I think I felt worse for Michael at that time because he was so hurt. I didn't see what he saw as both he and Jesus can see into the hearts and minds of all.

Now, years later, I am working regularly with Jesus because he asked me to do several projects with him. He has always been part of my team when healing but now I was helping him on some projects he wanted to see occur in the physical for your benefit.

I have been meeting regularly for months with someone, who also channels Jesus, and we are discussing with him everything from our personal work and lives, to current affairs but mostly discussing the stories in the Bible. His goal is to have us explain the stories of the Bible that are largely responsible for creating fear and separation from God. He wants to clarify and correct any misconceptions. It's been a fascinating project.

This Wednesday, I was delighted when he said that because I am in 5D that I could share who I have been in past lives relevant to pertinent information. He said I was trusted to deliver appropriate information at the right time and that if ever I was going to do something inappropriate, he or they would stop me. I always asked them to stop me if I am doing something they didn't like but I usually ask before delivering certain more significant information also check with other colleagues so they also can confirm. I never want to add to the problem of misinformation being shared.

I was so excited about the permission Jesus gave me for full disclosure during our project, that I shared on Facebook something about it later that evening. The next morning I noticed I was unfriended since that post. I am often criticized or feel the backlash energetically and see the unsubscribes, unfollows and unfriends when controversial. Fortunately, I have grown a thicker skin over the years because I found it hurtful in general. I started to write a comment in my status update about that dynamic but before I could hit send, the message disappeared before my eyes and I heard Jesus comment that he wanted to write something instead.

I could feel his energy was running rather hot and it kept reminding me of when he overturned tables at the temple. His energy was so heated, my face was red hot. He asked me to share the message on my blog and then my Help from Heaven group. I am now invited to share with you and others because his message speaks to a bigger dynamic than just me as he also included a mention regarding the elections.

I am so honored to have been asked to do several projects for him and I thank him again and more publicly this time for always being there for me. I don't know where I'd be without Jesus and Michael taking care of me and protecting me from so much negativity while serving God and humanity. This job may be rewarding but it isn't always easy! I couldn't do it without them.
