Joyful News - 6/9/17

Working for Heaven has its ups and downs as does any job. I must say, however, that it is never dull.

I have fortunately always held the view point that there is more to life than meets the eye. Certainly when you see beyond the veil, as well as experience life that isn't always visible to the naked one, it is ever so fascinating. I will always return to the place of the more I learn, the more I realize I don't know.

This work alone has opened my eyes to enormous information that has been revealed during client sessions. Seeing another side of life as well as the perspectives and experiences of others from the past can be a great teaching in so many ways. Understanding our past, our mistakes, and challenges and then letting them go with forgiveness of self and others is a tremendous blessing.

The following article regarding St. Paul is certainly one such example...

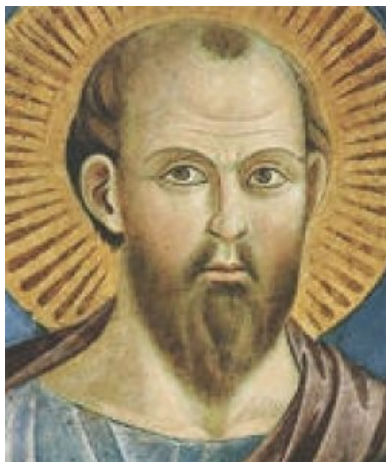

Wishing you a wonderful weekend.

Blessings,

Joy

St. Paul Asks for Forgiveness

I love divine timing when it becomes evident how it has orchestrated life. I had an unexpected session last Friday that opened the door to not only a significant clearing but also a couple of significant messages.

It isn't unusual where I can connect with someone who has passed within the context of a session. In this case, it was St. Paul. Biblical figures have been common in my practice. It has been one of the things that has helped me clear the past and the karma negatively affecting humanity. It has also been a fascinating aspect of my work.

The timing piece, however, was noted as religion has been very much part of and influenced by a patriarchal society and that was one of the subjects of our group clearing last Saturday.

St. Paul addressed an aspect of that in his message and also gave us the opportunity to clear it from his perspective. And, what I have come to experience is the new-found perspective individuals have after moving onto Heaven. There the scope of their understanding is substantially broadened.
