The Challenges of Fate

The definition of fate:

- the development of events beyond a person's control, regarded as determined by a supernatural power
- the course of someone's life, or the outcome of a particular situation for someone or something, seen as beyond their control

How are you experiencing fate in your life these days?

If you look at these "end of times" it seems that fate has a lot to do with it. And, it does to a degree. It was when God decided we would tie up loose ends and allow those ready to ascend to move into a life of more ease within Heaven on Earth. So, yes, the end game timeframe was decided eons ago and I would say that would fall under the label of fate.

We are in the time of tribulation so again, I would say that would fall under the label of fate as well.

But, here is where you get to play the game. Let's see how savvy you are at playing the end time game within the confines of this fate.

Here are some options that I see. You can play a victim. You can roll over and play dead. You can ascend to the highest heights possible. You have free will and get to choose. Stay and play. Stay and blame. Or, quit and leave the game completely.

Life on Earth is very much a puzzle, game and most certainly an experience. But, how are you choosing to experience it? God scheduled the end of times and planned for a time of tribulation where you had the opportunity to choose which side of the game you were going to align with - the dark side or the side of the light.

When aligned with God, the game gets to be played easier. When deciding to play without the alignment with the all-knowing, you have to figure more things out on your own. Therefore, you may experience more struggle. The fate is the timing and parameters. The free will part determines how you are going to experience the game. How will you interact with others and circumstances?

Sometimes you don't understand where fate begins and ends and what influence you have on the outcome. You actually have more power and influence that you realize. That has been a major part of the problem of people's experience all along. They have lost the knowing of who is within and how powerful that makes them. When you stand in your power and co-create with the ultimate creator of all, there are no limits.

As far as these end of times, you can influence both how your game is played, experienced and ends as well as how soon all can experience the biggest benefits possible.

The world is shifting in spite of as well as because of you. However, if you want the world to change faster, you change faster and influence the world's change. By being in balance, in your true power, aligned with God, raising your vibration by thinking and acting with the most light, positive and effective choices, the outcomes improve for you and others and sooner than later.

The game has changed. We have the opportunity to move from a world of duality to a world of peace, balance, love, freedom, love and abundance without the darkness. We can let of that part that has diminished many possibilities that could be also gained with ease.

You have the choice to let go of the constructs of limitations and old programming based on duality and step into the new world of ease and with more ease by the choices you make on a daily and moment-by-moment basis.

How are you going to play out this end of times game? Are you going to be victim or victor? Are you someone who will be someone who sits on the sidelines waiting to see what happens? Or, are you going to be a hero and make things happen for the better of self, others, and influence the all and how quickly things improve for the whole?

That part isn't fate. That part is choice. Isn't that great? You get to choose how the game is played, experienced and can influence the ultimate results for all. The more who choose to play hero, can help the ultimate shift to the new game of Heaven on Earth, where all the goodies are experienced with more ease. So, if you are ready for a new experience and game, let's finish this time of tribulation for all sooner than later and help everyone ascend to this new game quicker to alleviate the challenges the time of tribulation is demonstrating for many.

Much love,

Joy
