The ups and downs of an entrepreneur...

A Day In The Life As An Entrepreneur

I came across this graph and thought it a good one to elaborate on regarding the unique aspect of spiritual healing with the entrepreneur. Many of my clients own a business. What we do is identify and clear the hidden causes of their challenges negatively affecting them, their families, as well as their businesses.

But, for the purposes here, I thought I would focus on the demonstration this graphic provides. I haven't met one individual that doesn't have challenges, something hidden within their subconscious that holds them unknowingly back or that hasn't had issues with building a business. That's life and business.

The ups and downs, however, can often be cleared and the result smoothed out by identifying the hidden saboteurs within the subconscious.

Here's some examples of what we have cleared for people:

1. All times they have failed from the beginning of time. That could include failed businesses and marriages, failing a test, failing to get a date, getting a job or closing a sale, etc. from other lifetimes to this. These memories can cause fears and limited beliefs that then attract less than optimal results.
2. All memories of belittlement, false accusation, blame, mistakes and other experiences that caused the person to have subconscious feelings of doubt.
3. Unforeseen challenges such as fires, destruction, wars, or things that happened to them that contributed to the end result not working out that leaves lingering subconscious memories that no matter what they do, something could go wrong.

All the above can contribute to programming that is attracting the results a business owner may experience may have. Clearing elevates the outcomes.

Something we also do is clear all past situations and memories between those involved in the business and business transactions. If we clear in advance, we can elevate the meetings, events, mergers and acquisitions, sales cycles and transactions. Everyone's subconscious will remember how you knew someone in the past and depending on what happened in the past, it will dictate how they perceive each other now. You want to see each other clearly how you are today.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend.
Blessings,
Joy
