Would You Like More Love

When I look at humanity as a whole, I must say that I have profound love for all. Otherwise, I likely wouldn't have taken on this role this lifetime. There are times, however, due to the nature of my work clearing darkness that it may translate to a love/hate relationship when I see how darkness has been able to work through individuals.

Sometimes it just ain't pretty!

Your Choices Matter!

Choosing love over fear and negativity matters more than you know. Choose wisely in each moment so you can be a demonstration of love rather than fear, judgment, etc. Choosing to love as an action is a choice that matters more than you realize. It improves countless outcomes. By choosing to be someone of love and light demonstrating those qualities in the world, you are actively bringing more love and light to others and the world overall raising the vibration of the planet.

At essence you were all created from love and the love of God lives within each of you. I have found in my spiritual healing practice that if someone is lacking love it is more a reflection of their relationship with God in some way. For when you are well connected to the Source within that created you, you feel the eternal and unconditional love of God that no human can duplicate. Of course, negative memories of relationships can also impact issues surrounding love so we clear those so you are free from the past.

Looking for love in another is looking for love in all the wrong places. Love yourself. When you have it within, you attract it from elsewhere. As the Bible stated, Seek ye first the Kingdom of Heaven and all else shall be added goes for love as well.

You are enough. You don't need love from others when you are solid with the love of God from within. You can't help attract it from others though once that is accomplished first. And, you recognize and can receive it when you already have it within.

There are only two relationships you need honor before others and that is your relationship with God and your relationship with yourself. Once those two are solid, the rest can take care of themselves much more effortlessly and naturally. You can only have in the physical what you can demonstrate and experience from within first. All success must be created from within before it can be experienced in the physical.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend, a very Happy Valentine's Day and much love!

Blessings,
Joy

Message from Archangel Michael on Love

Archangel Michael shared quite an extensive teaching on love during our group healing call this month. The participants will be receiving an email next week with the entire message. However, I thought it useful to share this brief portion with you today:

Love is at the essence of all. When you lack for love there is only a block within you that needs healing. It is nothing you are denied. When you seek it in another, however, it is a reflection of the lack you feel within. Love just is. If you feel a lack of love, look at where you are not loving.

If you don't love yourself, others or your life, the cause lies within and not because you are being victimized in any way. The natural state of being is love. If separate from God, you will experience a lack of love regardless of whomever is in your life or loving you.

Let's get to know each other, the challenges you face and the solutions I provide. If there's a fit, we can decide together what options are best for you.

Unless and until you feel it within and have attained the oneness of the love of God, you will be lacking love from within.
