Twin Flame Karma

Over the years as a spiritual healer, I have made discoveries that I am grateful to uncovering what is purposeful to know and clear. One significant issue was that you could be taking on the karma of your twin flame. If you didn't clear it, you would be held back by their choices and the karma that was created by them. They have the ability also to shove their karma over to you for what they experienced.

You may also be responsible for any karma created due to past lives as well. For example, no matter what incarnation Archangel Michael or Faith experienced, I had to clear those negative memories, emotions and karma from those lifetimes to set myself free in this one. Considering how long ago they were created and how many incarnations they have had, that was no picnic!

But, something more recent occurred which also was a more unusual twin flame experience regarding karma.

I was guided to meet a man I could marry and because the relationship was serious, Michael became his high self so we could experience the twin flame relationship and benefits. His high self did not have a twin on the planet. His high self stepped aside and returned to the light and Archangel Michael became his high self allowing us to have the twin flame relationship in the physical. There were two unfortunate challenges. One, the man believed he would have trouble being alone while I was back in Florida to make the move. That brought up one significant issue because I needed/required a man I could trust and could be monogamous. If he allowed Michael to integrate, that problem may have been solved, however.

When well connected to Source, loneliness isn't an issue. I work and live alone and don't feel lonely. That's why it is important to always work on the self and the relationship to God first and foremost. It takes care of many other things in the process.

The second issue is that everyone needs integrate their high self. When an ego won't allow the high self in, the person doesn't fully benefit from the gifts the high self presents.

One of the reasons I am bringing this up is that Heaven will orchestrate what is for your highest good but you have to be ready, willing and able to accept it. If your ego won't allow you to accept God's gifts and methods, you will miss out on opportunity.

The other thing is the twin flame dynamic. Twin flames can carry the karma of their other half. If I didn't clear on his behalf, I could be affected by his choices and actions. If he wasn't going to be committed to our relationship, I didn't want to continue to clear on his behalf to protect myself from the karma he created. When I returned home, I discovered Michael left with me. He had to have a high self. But, because he was not stepping into his divine calling, he certainly didn't need an angel as a high self and especially not Michael. I was, therefore, free to no longer be concerned about any challenges he experienced or any karma this man created going forward.

This story also elaborates on walk ins to a degree. We could go into that subject in more depth on another occasion. But, the importance here is that although Heaven may be working with and for you, you have personal responsibility regarding your choices and actions. You can create karma and so can your twin and in either case, you may be the one suffering and be required to clean it up if you are the one who wants to see shifts in your own life.

One of the reasons I am including twin flame karma in our next group call clearing on March 2 is to help everyone clear the karma they are negatively affected by that was caused by their twin flame. It's challenging enough to work out your own karma as well as clear your own rather than be affected by that of your other half as well. If interested in clearing that karma, the link is below.

Blessings,

Joy
