Joyful News - February 6, 2019

Reincarnation Connections

My family was visiting and we viewed all my photo albums. While the albums were still strewn around, I commented to a colleague who stopped by last night about who was who from a reincarnated standpoint.

My nephew was my mother's father this lifetime. His daughter was my father's sister this lifetime. My parents were my parents in another lifetime but opposite genders in that life. My father's brother is now his daughter's son with same first name.

My sister-in-law was one of my previous grandmothers. My childhood girlfriend had also been a previous grandmother.

The girlfriend I am having lunch with today was my mother once and I hers in other lifetimes.

I gave my colleague a cowboy duster last night. That coat was given to me by a friend who had been my adopted son. My colleague was my husband one lifetime during a lifetime in the wild west. He could have actually worn one that lifetime. My parents were killed by Indians that lifetime and another girlfriend and I both remember the scene when that occurred and our cabin was burned down. We were raised by the Indians and another man I know recalled that lifetime as well and had been part of that tribe that raised us.

I am friends this lifetime with the biological parents of that adopted. They share the same gender roles during their current marriage. Both my colleague and I are now friends with my brother and sister-in-law from that lifetime. They are a couple in the same gender roles this lifetime.

We all continue to reincarnate to play different roles and learn from the different perspectives. But, we keep coming back with the same group of individuals. The parents are chosen, and roles are defined prior to being reborn. I saw a contract that my colleague and I formed in Heaven to work together this lifetime. So much is decided prior to coming. But, while here we have free will to determine how we play out certain scenarios. Sometimes we create karma in those roles and the subsequent lifetimes repay that karma or work it through with those same individuals in different roles.

One of the reasons we clear with family, relatives and ancestors both in private and group calls, is because these connections run deep and are significant. All end up benefiting by the clearings and are set free from whatever is included. So these past lives, as well, are released that are affecting you now.

It's all so fascinating. The discoveries I have made over the years recalling my own past lives as well as viewing those of my clients has opened the door to a deeper understanding of reincarnation. It is a subject that continues to unfold. It is definitely not as cut and dry as once believed. I will share more of those discoveries as I can.

In the interim, have a great day.

Much love,

Joy
