Transitions: How Are You Adapting?

This is a time of great change. The world is changing. Much is being revealed. This time of tribulation is wreaking havoc and many find it disconcerting. How are you navigating it? Heaven on Earth is open. Are you there yet?

Be mindful that not everything is as it seems. Much is being broken open to be released. Old issues are being brought to the surface to let them go to help you ascend. Whatever you are holding onto may be holding you back from experiencing what is possible. If you resist change, you also lose out on opportunity.

Be mindful that what is being triggered for others may not be handled well and their influences can be draining. Find compassion for those who are struggling to find their way these days rather than become engaged in their drama. It will make it easier for all if you do.

Not all opportunity comes in a nice neat bow. It often evolves out of the messes in life. The resistance, however, will slow down potential.

Know that on the other side of transition is the opening you have often yearned for but possibly couldn't experience because you were holding onto old ideas, limited thinking and fears.

God can only bring to you that which you are ready to receive. Are you ready to receive all that is possible? Or, are you limiting having what you want in your heart of hearts because your pictures aren't being met by being attached to old ideas?

You can't control God or his timing. But, if you are living in the moment accepting and appreciating the gifts presented, you will recognize and enjoy what is provided. That is the door opener to the next gift and the next.

So during this time of transition, keep mindful in the present, let go of the past that is triggered and be open to the possibilities. God always knows what is for your highest and best good and will never deny you. Relax and enjoy the ride as this time of transition will pass soon enough and all can experience a joy far greater than previously imagined.

Much love to you all.

Blessings,

Joy
