We caught up with the brilliant and insightful Joy Pedersen a few weeks ago and have shared our conversation below.

Joy, looking forward to hearing all of your stories today. So let's jump to your mission – what's the backstory behind how you developed the mission that drives your brand?

Ever since I was a child, I knew I was here for the end of the world as we knew it. I did not fully understand those dynamics until Archangel Michael invited me to write his book and join him in a healing practice. Because I owned a business network and taught networking practice that I realized the real mission was to clear darkness and karma negatively affecting humanity to set all free. The clientele I was sent all seemed to be old souls with a high purpose. They often also had past lives of famous Biblical characters. It was fascinating to read those past lives and see what happened throughout history to clear the events and people involved to restore balance. As we cleared the darkness, the world was returned to the light of God, and the planet and humanity were now back in his care. Many may not know the world was run by darkness. And, although it may appear dark to some now, the world is in much better shape than ever. We are in the stage of transition from the old world run by darkness and the effects, such as programming and patterns, to birthing the new golden age. Now, the focus of my practice is to help people release some of the negative effects of lifetimes of trauma, negative memories, emotions, and programming to set them free so they can ascend to the new golden age. Part of my current mission is to reconnect people to Source now so they can get direct divine guidance for their personal world to flourish with more ease. This is really God's mission. I am here facilitating rebalancing the world and helping all reconnect to Source with ease. And for us to establish peace on Earth.

Awesome – so before we get into the rest of our questions, can you briefly introduce yourself to our readers.

I was working for Paramount Pictures in Hollywood receiving calls from people asking for my help to break into the Studio. I wanted to help those who were struggling and started by determining what set me apart as I hadn't struggled. I learned about the Law of Attraction and began teaching the subject. Upon doing so, I realized we all had great results in some areas but were not consistent throughout all applying the same techniques. I realized the block had to be within us and searched for a solution. It was then I was introduced to the subconscious and superconscious mind and taught a spiritual healing technique to release the cause of blocks from within.

When I went into a formalized practice offering spiritual healing and coaching, I began working with small business owners. The common scenario was they were doing everything supposedly right but not getting the optimal results they preferred. Their desire for a solution opened them to me.

As an intuitive, I would tune into their subconscious or superconscious mind to find out future events. I would clear them, the business, spouse, children, and employees, as well as clear travel and their properties. My practice evolved as people presented their challenges or concerns to me.

I was blessed with gifts I didn't know I had previously. I could channel God and their guides to help provide insights and direction. Often I didn't know I could do something until the client presented a situation to me that needed clearing. I always opened all sessions by clearing and rebalancing their energies and those they presented, and then the rest was customized to their needs and interests. I frequently worked on common issues such as money and relationship challenges. But, one client called and asked if I could eliminate the bugs in their garage because nothing else worked. I didn't know if I could but was open to trying, and we were both amazed those bugs went away.

I'm blessed to continue to serve a number of clients and their families over the years because there's always a new level to achieve in spiritual growth for the individual as well as life changes and presents new scenarios to address, clear, and evolve.

Now that many people are spiritually awakening and ascending, I can assist them in leveling up. I love when I can teach and empower people to channel direct guidance from God and their guides as well as navigate life and heal themselves along the way, so they experience life with more ease.

My practice has evolved from just private sessions over the phone or Zoom for my international clients to also offering a group program where each month, the group can clear numerous topics releasing the next level within. There's always a new training from God I share that teaches people how to have a better relationship with him and how to improve life by applying spiritual perspectives and approaches. Those calls include spiritual training and a Q&A to help all ascend and evolve.

The book I channeled from Michael, "Wisdom of the Guardian: Treasures from Archangel Michael to Change Your Life" and the book about our work together that followed, "Clear Your Path and Change Your Future" also provide a unique perspective and spiritual training useful to the reader to help set them free from the past so they can improve their future.

It's time for everyone to connect to Source directly, and receive divine guidance for their highest and best good to live the life they came here to live and flourish with more ease

What do you think helped you build your reputation within your market?

When I came out of the spiritual closet saying I could speak to angels, I thought I'd lose the members of my business network. Instead, their trust in me from their prior experience encouraged some faith in what I began sharing. I believe those who gave me a chance to share my gifts initially helped launch my practice, and my reputation grew when they recommended me to others. I have clients who have gifted sessions for their friends and family to experience me. I know I'm not an easy sell because what I do is nothing of the norm. But, it became easier once people began getting results and sharing them. Being grounded in the business community and practices helped as well. I was invited to speak at Chambers of Commerce and events endorsed by those bringing me in, which was a huge help. Some came to me saying Archangel Michael sent them to me. Being endorsed by others who would say, "She's the real deal." helped tremendously.

What's been the best source of new clients for you?

I know many of my clients are heaven-sent. Now, when I want more business, I ask Source God to send me who I need to serve, and those clients call. But, it has also been useful to share the stories of what clients have experienced that sometimes drive people to call. For example, I was sharing the story of what was released during a session working on clear their birth or the birth of their children. Sharing case studies is a great method but certainly not as efficient as asking God to send the business. A combination of both, however, may be the perfect mix.
